3. Profile of skills and competences
The Skilled Building Supervisor is a profession established in 2012. It builds and expands on the traditional working areas of Janitor. The Building Supervisor ensures the smooth running of the building and its installations. The Building Supervisor also sees to repairs and maintenance, therefore it is important that the Building Supervisor has an understanding of the building as a whole and the functioning of its technical installations. The Building Supervisor needs to have competence across traditional vocational boundaries and be able to assess the need for external competence and request it when needed. The Building Supervisor works towards an environmentally healthy building environment, including energy optimisation. The training within the vocation should ensure the health and the security of others in all types of activity that are carried out within the building. The training for this vocation consists of one year in school and 3 years training in working life.
